It has become, even at present, a process, known as the Voluntary Hiring system. It will be difficult, to do so in an emergency, unless, they are requisitioned. Before promising the help, which is very necessary, the Govt may please consider

No.15/42-A.R.P.II
Government of India
Civil Defence Department.
New Delhi, the 3rd July 1942.

MEMORANDUM.

Civil Defence Department Circular No.274/42.

Provision of vehicles for P & T. Mobile Repair squads.

The Posts and Telegraphs Department have been urged and are anxious to provide mobile repair squads in all possible cases of large towns liable to Air Raids.

One difficulty which confronts them is the provision of transport for these squads.

It is realized that the calls on motor transport have been so great that in many places more lorries are not available, and a point has been reached where further requisitioning may endanger necessary trade and the life of the civil community.

It is requested that the officers of the Provincial government may be instructed to give all reasonable aid to the local P & T.officers in the matter of using A.R.P. transport for their repair squads.

This will incur some risk of transport being insufficient when the emergency occurs, but much depends on quick repairs to telegraphix and telephone lines, and all possible help should be given until a better position can be established.

Where plenty of motor transport is available the P. & T. Department are prepared to ask for requisitioning and to pay for the vehicles they require.

Secretary to the Government of India.
